MacDonald's Sincerity.
Convict and Canary.

By ARTHUR BRISDANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ON Friday millions that had read about the shot heard round the world, on the radio heard Ramsay MacDonald's speech on peace, also heard around the world.

In 50 years no finer address has been heard in America. Earnest, simple, sincere, it carried conviction to the minds of millions here and in countries across the oceans.

BORN in poverty, self educated, beginning life as a Scotch workman, Mr. MacDonald has achieved a perfection of style and manner altogether admirable.

HIS achievement is recommended to those that lament the lack of "college education" and other opportunities.

MacDonald "was educated on the job and Robert Burns," enough education for any man willing to read history, study and think.

MR. MACDONALD emphasized, for his government, as Secretary Stimson has done for America, that Britain and the United States have entered into no alliances against other nations, open or secret. They have solemnly declared against war as a means of settling questions arising among civilized nations, and invite the nations of the world to join in that declaration.

IT IS long since individuals in English-speaking countries abandoned the duel between individuals, in settling points of honor, or other disagreements.

It is not too much to hope that national dueling will also be abandoned. The visit of Ramsay MacDonald means much to future peace. The two most powerful countries in the world have made a declaration more binding upon their honor than any diplomacy could honor questions could possibly make.

NEVERTHELESS, while MacDonald and Hoover talked in Washington, there were guards about the White House, police in the streets.

Civilized nations must have their guards and their police, on water, on land, in the air.

And as civilian police and militia are sufficiently numerous and well-armed to take care of any outbreak of crime or other lawlessness, so civilized nations, with no intention of breaking the peace, must be powerful enough to prevent serious outbreaks, anywhere on earth.

POWER in the air and under water is especially important. For, in modern war, fighting methods have changed as they have changed in modern crime. One bandit can hold up and rob a roomful of men, taken by surprise, and one small nation, properly equipped, could surprise the greatest nation, taken off its guard, unprepared.

THERE is no formal alliance between the United States and the British Empire. But it might as well be understood that the present "understanding" would become a genuine alliance instantly, should any wanton attack menace either country or the peace of the world at large.

RAMSAI MACDONALD was 63 years old yesterday.

His voice is like that of a powerful man of 40. The British withstand "time's irreparable outrage" better than their American cousins.

Millions that heard MacDonald speak on Friday hope he will live at least 62 years longer, and come to spend his hundredth birthday with us.

SOME one ransacked Mr. Sam Zumbo's summer house near St. Louis, taking $150 and freeing a canary from its cage.

British Premier Says Goodbye to New York

MACDONALD AND DAUGHTER GO TO CANADA

Cheer-leader on Job As Visitors Entrain.

CHIEF HAPPY Farewell Statement Will be Issued at Buffalo.

BY DAVID P. SENTNER
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—(INS)—Leaving a rainbow of good-will behind him, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain, departed for Canada at 8:30 a. m. today accompanied by his daughter, Ishbel, and the rest of the entourage.

Unique Send-off.
As the prime minister and his daughter waved farewell from the observation platform of the train to some 2,000 well-wishers gathered at the Grand Central station to wish them good-speed, they received a most unique send-off.

Their going more resembled the departure of a victorious college football team than that of one of the leading statesmen in the world and his daughter. An impromptu cheer-leader somewhere in the throng led systematic "hip-hip-hoorays" and "Three cheers for MacDonald" and the prime minister, to say the least, just beamed.

"I can only say that I truly regret to leave," said Mr. MacDonald before the train pulled out. "I will issue my farewell statement when I leave American soil at Buffalo."

Ishbel is radiant. She is wearing a black ensemble with an abalone green blouse, a red beaver hat and fawn-colored gloves, was radiant as she stood beside her father and exchanged numerous "goodbyes."

Before leaving, the prime minister shook hands with 50 members of the British consulate here, each one of whom Sir Harry Armstrong, British consul, introduced personally.

Two automobiles were filled to overflowing with high banks of chrysanthemums and other flowers sent to the train by friends of Mr. MacDonald and his daughter.

Shakes Hands With Police.
Just before stepping on his train, the labor premier shook hands with a number of the New York policemen and detectives who have been guarding him since his arrival here last Saturday.

"You boys have certainly hustled us," he said to Police Inspector C. C. Plante, with a smile. "You are as bad as the London police."

phia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs this afternoon. It was to be the fifth game of baseball's annual masterpiece and the final one, if the Athletics win it. They already had three victories in hand and needed only a fourth today to fall heir to the highest honor within the gift of professional baseball, the World's championship.

So much for what will happen if they do win. If they don't the series will go into a 3-to-2 ratio and another train ride to Chicago for the sixth game on Wednesday. The Athletics can take title to the championship by winning any one of the three remaining games and naturally were prohibitive favorites in the betting, of which there was practically none. An ultimate Athletics victory has been conceded by everybody except the grimly fighting Cubs, who had recovered a measure of their composure after the disastrous seventh inning of Saturday in which a record total of 10 runs were scored to win a ball game that apparently had been lost beyond recall. Anyhow, the Cubs were conceding nothing.

Sun Is Not Visible.
For one thing, the sun, which had been one of the main instigators of that rally, was not visible today, leaving Hack Wilson no alternative but to miss his fly balls in something else. Hack lost two of them in the sun on Saturday, whereas today was dark and overcast with more than a hint of impending rain.

The president and Mrs. Hoover, accompanied by a party that was scheduled to include Attorney General and Mrs. William D. Mitchell and Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Arthur Hyde, was to arrive at North Philadelphia at 1 o'clock and proceed directly to the ball park, only a few blocks away.

Malone on Firing Line.
This game figured to be well worth his visit. It was to be the show-down meeting between a pair of clubs that were ordained to fight this one to the last gasping breath—"The Athletics supreme in the confidence bred of Saturday's amazing victory, the Cubs smiling and white with the grim intensity of their emotions."

They were to stake their all on the pitching of Pat Malone, who to date had been in two ball games without winning either of them. But the Cubs figured Patrick for a winner just the same and made their bets accordingly. They had little choice, at that, Guy Bush, the lone club winner of the series, being the only alternative.

Connie Mack's plans, as usual, were as clear as a stained glass window. He could pitch Howard Ehmke, the first game winner. He could reply with George Earnshaw, who won the second game in collaboration with Lefty Grove and lost the third, strictly on his own. And Mack could pitch Grove himself.

HOOPER GOES TO FIFTH GAME

President's Train Due In Philadelphia at 1 P. M.

By GEORGE E. DURNO.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—(INS)—President Hoover tossed the burdens of his office on the shelf today and departed for Philadelphia, just like any other fan, to see the fifth and perhaps deciding game of the world series.

Making up his mind suddenly, after getting the baseball fever from the wild seventh inning on Saturday, the president collected a small party of cabinet officers and left the capital at 10 a. m. in a couple of special cars attached to a B. and O. train. In his party were Mrs. Hoover, Allan Hoover, the Attorney General and Mrs. Mitchell, Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Hyde, several White House attaches, and newspaper men.

The president will reach Philadelphia with just barely time to make Shibe field before the starting time. His train is due to arrive at 1 p. m. The return trip will be made immediately after the game, and the president will be back in the White House for a late dinner.

DENTISTS FLY FROM CAPITAL

Drs. Bert George of East Liverpool and G. W. McMillan, Wellsville, have returned from Washington, where they attended the annual meeting of the American Dental society.

The return trip was made by airplane and rail. They left Washington aboard an air liner at 1:30 p. m., arriving in Pittsburgh at 4 p. m., and then completed the trip to East Liverpool by train and street car, arriving here about 5:30 o'clock. The trip required four hours.

Owa-Ton-Na Proved a Great Help in Removing Disorders Which Kept Me Weak.

Time after time Owa-Ton-Na proves successful after all other methods tried have failed. This is not remarkable when it is understood how Owa-Ton-Na brings results. Going after cause rather than effect, not through the use of nerve deadening drugs, but by nature's own root, herbs, barks and berries. Owa-Ton-Na tones eliminative organs which result in more normal function; cleans eliminative tracts and in this way aids assimilation and elimination which are two of the most important factors in health. Proper assimilation builds up normal disease resisting strength. Proper elimination removes from the system harmful wastes which if allowed to accumulate, would bring about disease.

Daily new users add their endorsements to the thousands who have already endorsed this fine old Indian Remedy in kidney, liver, stomach and intestinal disorders: rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general run down condition of health. Mrs. Zora Richards, 211 W. 3rd St., E. Liverpool, Ohio, recently told the special laboratory representative how Owa-Ton-Na corrected her kidney, liver, stomach and rheumatic disorders.

She says: "It certainly is wonderful to be able to find a remedy which would correct disorders which no end of other treatments failed to relieve. I can not remember the time when I felt as good as I do now. Once again I can enjoy eating a good meal for my appetite is wonderful and foods do not distress me and cause indigestion the way it has for so many years."

"Constipation and dizzy spells made life miserable. My kidneys were not acting right and as I knew this was dangerous, I was greatly worried about my condition. Owa-Ton-Na right from the start showed me that I had at last found the right remedy. Almost each day I could note improve-

"Constipation, headaches and kidney disorders are all things of the past. My nerves are 100% better than they have been for years. My constipation is clearing up. I have new energy and sleep fine at night. Anyone who suffers should learn about Owa-Ton-Na and give it a good fair trial."

Mrs. Richards' results with the use of this fine old Indian Remedy are no more remarkable than thousands of other sufferers report. Let Owa-Ton-Na prove to you the way it helps in bringing back health by going today to your druggist and obtaining a bottle for yourself. 911 Owa-Ton-Na is worth that to any one who suffers. WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—American delegates recently returned from attendance upon the first international lighthouse conference ever to be held. They are George H. Putnam, commissioner of lighthouses of the United States; J. T. Yates, superintendent of the third lighthouse district, with headquarters at New York; and H. W. Rhodes, superintendent of the eighteenth lighthouse district at San Francisco. The conference was held at London at Trinity House, which is the headquarters of the oldest lighthouse organization in the world which, in 1514, received a charter of incorporation from Henry VIII as the "guild or fraternity of the most glorious and undivisible Trinity of St. Clement."

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Diary of a modern Peeps: Up betimes and to walk with Floyd Gibbons and afterward to a little bakery where I had a bottle of cold milk and two fresh cinnamon buns. And on the way home Otto Kahn, the money changer, made a sweeping bow, mistaking me for some one else.
Then to the newly rented room in my inn where I work and which I call before strangers my "study," thus impressing them greatly. And came a book of autographed poems from Lillian Bret Harte, which I treasure. So to dictating 30,000 words which must be done in a fortnight.

Other Editors Say
Foe, the Romantic Reporter.
Eighty years ago yesterday Edgar Allan Poe died miserably in a hospital in Baltimore, leaving poems and stories which bear the mark of genius, and in addition a legacy of legend surrounding his life.
Through the activities of the Edgar Allan Poe society, a privately-printed volume will be released this week, containing a series of seven letters on "Doings of Gotham," contributed by Poe in 1844 to the Columbia Spy, a newspaper published at that time in Columbia, Pennsylvania. A poem, "New Year's Address of the Carriers of the Columbia Spy," along with editorial comments and criticisms by Poe, will also be included in the new volume. The material, found in the possession of a citizen of Pottsville, will afford fresh opportunity to study the style of Poe, the reporter, as well as to obtain a picture of New York in the period just preceding the outbreak of the Mexican war.
Fortunately for themselves young authors of today have abandoned the fancy for imitating the life of Poe, and are willing to consider him only from a point of literary style. Thanks to the legend of those years when Poe was the indulged foster son of the wealthy John Allen, and those later years of poverty when, disinherited, he supported himself all too unsuccessfully as a journalist, imitators who consorted themselves in their cups with vain comparisons, but with scant appreciation of the fact that Poe, neurotic though he was, was something more than a common drunkard who wrote in mortal prose and verse.
The Edgar Allan Poe society is obviously inspired by the laudable desire to tear away the gloomy shrouds of mystery from which shall emerge the man Poe as we recognize him in the light of an emotional judgment. The modern student of literature and psychology is less influenced by the romantic aspects of the legendary Poe than by the dramatic story of a reckless figure, pampered unwisely as a boy, bred to the life of a pleasure-loving gentleman and later denied the means to live as such. Poe, as we see him today, is a fit subject for the modern type of analytical biography, a man whose spirit was over battling against itself, a victim of training and temperament, yet able to leave some fruits of his magnificently Macabre imagination. — Detroit Free Press.

Register, Voters!
With the world series not far from the end, and, judging from betting odds in Philadelphia, where the fifth battle will be staged this afternoon, it will be written into history before the sun goes down, East Liverpool voters will turn their attention to the Nov. 5 election.
In East Liverpool, electors must register in order to qualify for a vote in the selection of public officials and the privilege of passing judgment upon special proposals. And in accordance with the law, the deputy state supervisors of elections designate certain days for this purpose.
Next Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19, have been set as registration days. Registrars will be on duty from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. and 5 to 10 p. m. each day to enroll new voters and electors who neglected to qualify for the presidential balloting last fall or the municipal primaries last August.
On the same days, transfers will be issued to voters who have changed their place of residence since election day. If an elector has moved, he must sign his name on the registration books in the precinct in which he is now living in order to safeguard his right of suffrage.
If you are not qualified, and expect to vote next month when township, municipal and judicial officers and board of education members will be elected and the fate of two proposed municipal tax levies and a proposed state tax limit amendment decided, you must enroll next Friday or Saturday.

World's Highest Structure
It was but a few weeks ago that publication was made of the fact that a structure, to be erected in New York City upon the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria and to be known as the Empire State building, was to have 80 stories and be almost 1,000 feet in height, which would entitle it to the designation of the world's highest building.
And now, before the workmen have fairly started to raise the famous old hotel to clear the way for this great office building, comes word that a still higher office building is to be erected at the corner of Broadway and Forty-ninth street.
According to the architect's preliminary plans, which have already been approved by the city authorities and the client of the builders, the latest skyscraper will tower 1,050 feet above the street level and, with the site, will represent an investment of $30,000,000. This will make it 125 feet higher than the City Bank Farmers Trust company's planned 72-story building, well over fifty feet higher than the Empire State building and fifty feet higher than the Eiffel tower in Paris, at present the world's highest structure. This is to be the highest structure of any kind ever erected by man.
It is significant that those interested do not state the number of stories the new building will have and refer to its height only in feet, which may be taken as making evident that they are more concerned in the height it is to attain than the number of its stories. In a word, they are seeking the prestige which will go to the world's highest structure.
And thus the mad race goes on. In this case it is for height. In the next it may be for size. But one or the other seemingly is the present-day objective. The question is: where will it stop? And what assurance is there that such structures will withstand a severe earthquake shock? Nothing approaching a thousand-foot building has ever been tested. It may be said that New York City, by way of illustration, has never had a severe earthquake, which is true. But this is no guarantee that it may not have, for it has experienced slight quakes, and it is known to be near what is known as a "fault" in the earth's crust.

YOUR HEALTH
An Ounce of Prevention is Worth a Pound of Cure.
By Dr. Royal S. Copeland
If you mistreat your automobile and break its mechanism, you have no occasion to worry. The broken part can be replaced.
If you are in an accident that takes you to police station, or the hospital, a collision does not amount to much. The repair shop will restore everything to working order.
Your feet are the chief machinery for the locomotion of your precious body. They are essential to your happiness and welfare. There may be artificial substitutes, but in the real sense there are no spare parts for this mechanism of locomotion.
Except when they hurt and ruin the pleasure of living, how often do you think about your feet? You spend a hundred dollars a year to keep your hands looking well, but what do you do for your feet?
You should give more than casual thought to these members. They are the very foundation of that temple of energy, the human body.
You make a wreck of yourself by permitting sore feet to spoil your happiness. Nerves are put on edge and health undermined by steady pain, no matter where it is located. Take care of your feet.
Parents should see to it that their children are properly directed when they begin to walk. It is essential that proper foot wear be provided from earliest life. It is also well for grown children, as well as adults, to have their feet examined at least once each year. These examinations should be made by orthopedists. They are as important as examinations to safeguard the sight, the hearing and the organs of the body. This is the teaching of all those who believe that prevention is better than cure.
A great poet has written some verse in which the refrain is "Build me straight, oh Worthy Master," thus echoing the sentiments which every fond parent holds for the young for whose upbringing he is responsible. With the feet, the foundation of the body, properly safeguarded, the material means for accomplishing this result are made possible.
Surveys made by the staffs of the foot clinics of New York and given publicity through the United States Public Health Service, show that 60 per cent of adolescent girls are more or less foot defective. It should be our aim to prevent troubles of this kind, and to correct them when they do exist. Then there will be fewer foot cripples. As a result, our citizens will carry themselves better, having normal posture, thus helping the race practically as well as bettering its appearance.
I marvel more and more that people buy whatever is offered in the way of shoes. They select their furniture, table linen, and evening garments with the greatest of care. But when it comes to shoes they are sadly indifferent.
If you prize your comfort and efficiency you will not neglect your feet. You will take care of them and clothe them only in the best fitting of shoes.

H. B. Q.—What causes an itchy scalp?
A.—May be due to dandruff. Brush the hair daily and use a good tonic.
S. E. G. Q.—What can I do for nervousness?
A.—I would suggest that you build up your general health. Eat plenty of nourishing food, get plenty of sleep in a well-ventilated room, exercise in the fresh air daily and take a body-building tonic.
A. D. Q.—What should a woman weigh who is forty-five years old and five feet tall?

I. R. Q.—Is it dangerous to have a child's tonsils removed at this time of the year?
2.—Should this operation be done at home or in a hospital?

Mrs. L. S. N. Q.—What is the cause of vitiligo? What is the cure?
A.—This is due to lack of pigment. There is nothing that can be done for this condition. However, the spots may be made less noticeable by painting with a wine-colored solution of permanganate of potash.

Once Over
By J. J. MUNDY.
"On Talking Things Over."
You say if you could only talk things out when you have trouble you might get over it but you can't express yourself.
So you nurse what you think are injuries and play the sore-head more than half the time and consequently suffer mentally.
You say that others seem to have no sympathy for you.
You complain of lack of understanding.
You are jealous of some of your friends who can talk things over calmly even when housed by apparent injustice.
But you would be indignant if you were called a grouch.
You, with your ability, your genius, perhaps, the skill you have in certain lines to thrill other folk. Can't you see that you are your own worst enemy?
If you recognize the faculty of talking things over is a good one, then you ought to be able to cultivate it.
You need controlled thought and if you can't explain your position you must at least believe good of the other fellow, or be judged from an unfavorable standard.

Questions and Answers.
By Frederic J. Haskin.
This newspaper puts at your disposal a corps of trained researchers in Washington who will answer questions for you. They have access to the government departments, the libraries, museums, galleries, and public buildings, and to the numerous associations which maintain headquarters in the nation's capital. If they can be of assistance to you, write your question plainly, and send with two cents in coin or stamps to the East Liverpool Review Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.
Q. Who sponsored the first authorized voice advertisement by radio? When was this done. M. E. W.
A. The National Broadcasting company says that to the best of its knowledge a talk on real estate, sponsored by the Queensboro Realty corporation, Jackson Heights, L. I., was the first sponsored voice advertisement on the air. This was done in the latter part of 1922 over WEAF, which it believes was the first station in the United States to accept a talk for broadcast advertising. At that time, WEAF was owned and operated as an experimental station by the American Telephone Telegraph company.
Q. How was fire discovered? A. M.
A. This cannot be known definitely. The most probable theory is that it was discovered in the process of making stone implements, when sparks were struck off. Fire caused by lightning may have been utilized by primitive man.
Q. Of what does the Cathedral of Beauvais consist? E. L.
A. Only of the famous choir (built between 1227 and 1272) and a transept.
Q. What paid did George Washington receive while he was in the American Army? W. E. A.
A. William R. Thayer in his book called "George Washington" says that Washington refused to take any pay in the Revolutionary war, merely keeping a strict account of what he spent for the government from 1775 to 1782. This amounted to over 15,000 pounds and covered only sums distributed by him for the Army.

DEAR ANNE LAURIE:

BILLY BOB AND POLLY: If the young man indicates that he is desirous of talking with you by all means stop and converse with him. If not, a bow and a pleasant smile from you will no doubt quickly convey to your friend that you have not forgotten your former friendship with him.

I have come to you with the one question that arises in a girl's mind when she thinks she has met the one and only man.
Please tell me how it feels to be in love so I'll know if this is the real thing. Please answer this as quickly as possible, as he has asked me to marry him and go to South America with him.

No American Relief For China
Following a meeting of its central committee in Washington, the American Red Cross through its national chairman, John Barton Payne, has announced its decision not to enter the field of famine relief in China.
For some time the question of famine relief for China has been a controversial one, with the Chinese hoping for American relief and American observers advising against it. As a result the Red Cross sent a commission to China to study the situation, and the commission, following an investigation which extended from the middle of June until the end of August, found that a normal climatic condition was returning to the famine areas; that the distress was due largely to chaotic political and military conditions, and that a wise, strong, stable government was the primary need of the country to lead it out of disorder. The commission manifestly is of the opinion that American relief would make conditions worse rather than improving them. It reported, in part, that:
"Chinese leaders would no doubt give more thought to the removal of the causes which impoverish their people and bring on such tragedies if they realized the necessity of assuming full responsibility for resulting relief needs. Any acceptance of that responsibility by foreign agencies can not but retard this all important result."
In a word, any relief sent to China at this time would encourage the Chinese leaders in the withholding of the reforms which would render such relief from time to time unnecessary. It would tend to encourage the leaders in their rapacity, and in a measure protect them from the just vengeance of an outraged people. It may seem a hard-hearted course to Americans generally, who are noted alike for their tender-heartedness and generosity, but it is the only apparent course to follow to bring the matter to a crisis and bring about relief which will be permanent.

ALL-STAR CAST IN REVUE HIT

The greatest cast of celebrities ever assembled on any stage or before any motion picture camera are to be seen in "The Hollywood Revue," which opens today at the Ceramic theater as Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's big special musical extravaganza.

Marion Davies makes her bow as a song-and-dance comedienne in the revue as "Tommy Atkins on Parade" with a male ensemble of six-footers as a dancing body-guard.

Norma Shearer and John Gilbert co-star in a modernized "Romeo and Juliet" skit and Bessie Love again wins honors with her inimitable clowning and acrobatic dancing as well as participating in novel song numbers with Polly Moran and Marie Dressler. Cliff (Kulele Ike) Edwards wins fresh laurels as a screen artist and Karl Dane and George K. Arthur lend voice to the festive film.

Jack Benny, vaudeville star, acts as master-of-ceremonies and introduces Conrad Nagel as a singer. Anita Page shares the act with Conrad, and Charles King of "Broadway Melody" fame again crowns lyrical ballads. Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy join the show as magicians and the Brox Sisters again burst into song. Gus Edwards sings one of his original numbers with an appropriate chorus.

Joan Crawford does a neat song and dance turn with The Rounders lending a tuneful background. The Albertina Rasch Ballet is charming in a technicolor scene with a daring adagio. William Haines and Buster Keaton add merriment with featured skits and Gwen Lee is included in the elaborate cast of fun-makers.

BASEBALL STORY AT AMERICAN

"Fast Company," which opened today will doubtless be packing them in for some days to come at the American theater.

"Fast Company" has to do with a "bush league" ball player, Jock Oakie, who plays baseball so well that he is signed by the Yankees. He leaves his little old home town and is plunged into the fast company of city-bred girls and the big league players. He becomes the tower of strength on the Yankees and they win the pennant. Then comes the World's series with Pittsburgh. With the deciding game to be played on the morrow, a number of upsetting events project themselves into the pathway of success for Oakie. His girl turns him down, and a gang of smart rammers make him their unwitting dupe. All seems dark when a very happy twist of fate saves the days for the boastful but lovable hero.

The picture is based on an original Ring Lardner story. Jack Oakie is what showmen call a "natural" comedian for the part he plays. He is a bragging, happy-go-lucky youth, and his comedy-cracks collect hundreds of laughs. All the advantages of sound recorded are brought into the production. You hear the fans yelling, you hear the players razzing the other team, you hear the crack of the bat on ball. You hear the American "slanguage as she is spoke."

COLMAN HEADS CAST AT STATE

Every important member of the cast of "Bulldog Drummond," the mystery thriller which Samuel Goldwyn brings to the State theater on Monday with Ronald Colman as star, is an actor of considerable stage experience.

Colman himself was a prominent juvenile on the English stage before coming to the United States and got his first chance in pictures after Henry King, the director, saw him in a New York production and signed him to play opposite Lillian Gish in "The White Sister." Joan Bennett, who plays the leading feminine role opposite him, is making the first appearance in films, having recently completed playing in "Jarnagan" on Broadway with her father, the famous Richard Bennett.

Lillian Tashman, the blonde temptress of the picture, began her stage career as one of Florenz Ziegfeld's glorified show girls. Montagu Love and Lawrence Grant are both well-known American stage actors in character specialties and Claude McAllister plays ing Algy Longworth, Bulldog Drummond's bosom friend, played the same role in the days when "Bulldog Drummond" was the stage hit of London.

The story of "Bulldog Drummond," written by "Sapper," is already familiar to thousands. It puts its hero into a fierce struggle with a gang of criminals whose methods of procedure are based on the fiendish torturing ability of Dr. Leakington, a physician who delights in inflicting pain. The combination of these sinister elements with the love story of Drummond's romance with Phyllis, whose uncle has fallen into the criminal's hands, makes a thrilling story which is said to bring audiences out of their seats cheering.

"I'll tell you why I invested in insurance protection for my fur coat" remarked a young business woman to a group of friends recently. "A cousin of mine who lives in Cleveland had quite a tragic experience with her fur coat. Her apartment was entered and the coat and a lot of other clothing were stolen. It just made her sick. Why she paid $500 for it. Is it any wonder? I decided right then if I ever owned a fur coat I'd have it insured and sure enough I just had my coat three weeks when I had it insured against fire and theft. I think the protection you get is worth many times what it costs. Yes, the Lee C. Cooper Agency writes this insurance but there's a number of folks who don't know it."

A friend asked us the other day if Odell's had a pretty piece of needle-point large enough to cover a chair (which we were ordered upstairs to examine). "But I don't want something with a lot of work on it," she admonished. We hid ourselves to the Art Goods section and it didn't require any eagle-eyed detective work to discover a counter laden with many sizes and designs and they can be finished in a hurry as the centers are already worked in colors and all that is left for the very busy lady is just the background to fill in. Also some beautiful little pieces to be mounted on trays. Not a bit too early to suggest one as a Christmas gift!

I've always envied the person who could draw a cartoon or paint a lovely scene. To me that's a real accomplishment. The only things I ever could draw with any degree of success was a box. I'm stupid, I know but I contend that if Mrs. Harriet Anderson had taught Art when I went to school I would have received much better grades. Mrs. Anderson presents her lessons in such a clear, concise form that the youngest pupil can learn rapidly. There are no haphazard methods and each student's work receives individual attention. Classes for adults on Friday evenings and Saturday mornings.

Next time you're overcome with that empty, forsaken feeling in your gastronomic regions just saunter into Weaver's Coffee Shoppe and treat yourself to a bowl of their delicious soup. They always have several kinds but we're especially fond of their chicken noodle soup. It's well-seasoned and they are most generous with the noodles. (some folks aren't, we find) Ever go there for your lunch? They serve very nice salads and the best sandwiches, oh yes and a variety of desserts including home-made pies and cakes.

That panels and trains will find favor on evening gowns for Fall and Winter functions is well expressed by the eggshell chiffon evening gown worn by Kay Francis, screen star. ## LET'S X-RAY THE FACTS

THE primary function of a Radio is to receive music without loss of quality. Until the advent of the NEW Brunswick, this was an un-realized dream.

But no longer. For the NEW Brunswick will receive music, every type of it, with "Studio Quality" Radio Reception. And that means that now, for the first time, full enjoyment can be realized from Radio programs. They can be heard through the NEW Brunswick exactly as though the listener-in were in the studio of the Broadcasting Station, hearing the actual artists themselves. The elaborate apparatus that makes broadcasting and reception possible does not seem to exist.

The Most Drastic Test ever conceived

Don't buy any Radio until you have had a Brunswick Dealer reproduce for you, in his own store, the most convincing test for Radio Tone and Reception ever conceived—which Brunswick made at 12:11 midnight, May 4th last, at Station WABC, New York City. As a result of this test you will, for the first time, be able to compare the work of great artists as they actually sound in the studio, and as they come over the air, through the NEW Brunswick Radio.

BISHOP SPEAKS AT OPENING OF METHODIST CELEBRATION

PITTSBURGH PRELATE IN PULPIT HERE

Church Leader Also Visits Orchard Grove Edifice. SPECIAL MUSIC Steubenville District Conference Opens Today.

"Only the realization that we as human beings are junior partners in God's age-long plan makes life really worth living," said Bishop Herbert C. Welch, D. D. LL.D., head of the North-East Ohio conference of the Cincinnati area as well as that of the Pittsburgh area, to a large audience in the initial service of the one hundred and second anniversary of the founding of the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning.

"You are to be congratulated on your long and honorable past as a congregation. I believe that you are looking forward rather than backward to your more than a century of beginning." You are doubtless envisioning that which will be your accomplishments in the next hundred years, I therefore suggest for your consideration the signal words of Paul to the Corinthians, "Working together with Him."

Preceding the bishop's discourse musical program was carried out by the choir, directed by the Rev. Charles R. Loney, the assistant pastor. It included an organ prelude, "A Song of Gratitude"—Cole, by Mrs. T. C. Flick, the organist; three hymns, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord, God Almighty"—Hoher, "Faith of Our Fathers"—Faber and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds"—Fawcett; an anthem by the choir, "Gloria," from the Twelfth Mass—Mozart, and a quartet, "No Night There" from Victory—Wildmere.

Seven Members Received.

Seven new members were received into the church at the conclusion of the service.

New Life for Old Furs

Those furs, worth today so much more than you paid for them, will look as valuable as they really are if you will have them scientifically dry-cleaned.

Every fur is revitalized and brightened by our modern process—the skin is softened and given new life, and of course, that applies to the silk and satin linings, too.

And, not the least important, dry-cleaning destroys moths and the tiniest egg, that if neglected, might grow into a moth family.

Have your furs dry-cleaned before storing, and again when you take them out. If you do you'll never have to apologize for last year's scarf.

BETTMAN RULES ON GAS TAX

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 14.—(INS)—Municipalities may use their share of the state motor vehicle tax and their portion of the original two-cent gasoline tax for widening streets, either by maintenance and repair or by new construction. Attorney General Gilbert Bettman today gave this ruling to officials of the state bureau of supervision and inspection of public offices.

Bettman also ruled that the money derived from such taxes may not be used by municipalities for the purpose of purchasing additional right-of-way needed in connection with the widening of any street.

The attorney general further held it is not necessary to let by competitive bidding contracts for projects which are to be paid with this money, unless such contracts are required to be so let either by state law or by provision of the charter in cities having a charter form of government.

UNCLE POM

By Henry C. Rowland

A sparkling, swift-moving mystery romance

SYNOPSIS.

Pomeroy Penfold, a wealthy American widower, nearing 50, loves to travel and visit friends. When the story opens he is a guest at the chateau of his sister, Alicia, and her husband, the Comte de Senec. He is disturbed by the sight of an intruder—a man in a yacht costume—who appears on the estate, and stares rudely at Maia, the count's lovely 20 year old daughter by a first marriage. Kirby admits having met the man in America, and says his name is Capt. Seagrave.

Kirby Colton, handsome scapegrace son of an American bishop, an old friend of the Penfold family, calls at the chateau unexpectedly and is invited to spend the night. He, too, has met Maia in America.

The count surprises Uncle Pom by telling him Maia loves him and indicating the marriage would please him. Maia overhears them and confirms her father's remarks. Later she confesses that both Kirby and Seagrave are erstwhile suitors. Knowing the two hate each other, Uncle Pom goes in search of Kirby to avoid a clash. He is attacked from behind, knocked unconscious, and robbed of a belt containing priceless diamonds. That night a prowler in his room tries to choke him, then escapes. Maia suspects Seagrave of both attacks—he is always in financial difficulties—but Kirby astonishes every one by offering an alibi for his rival. And he con-fides in Uncle Pom that he has not come to see Maia, but to borrow $1,000 to save an innocent girl from trouble. Penfold gives him the money.

Seagrave calls, and is unabashed when Penfold tells him he is under grave suspicion for assault and battery. He denies the charges, announces that he intends to marry Maia, and infuriates Penfold by hinting he knows something to the girl's discredit, which he will use as blackmail. Pressed for details, he declares she is involved in a case of murder, and says Colton can confirm the story, as he was a witness. Colton explains that Maia did shoot a man in America by accident, but through Seagrave's fault. He challenges the latter to a duel, but later agrees with Penfold that this would only bring scandal to Maia's name and the best thing for Kirby to do is to clear out at once.

First, however, Kirby makes a deposition, swearing he fired the shot, in order to forestall more blackmail threats, and surprises Penfold by confessing that he has just put through a coup with European financiers that will make him rich. He pays off the debt on Seagrave's yacht, hoping to get rid of him, because he feels Maia has more cause to fear him since she asked Kirby not to clear his rival's name with the alibi.

That night Uncle Pom is disturbed by a noise downstairs and, investigating, finds that the count's swords have disappeared. He suspects a duel and begins to search the grounds. He hears Maia and Kirby talking in the moonlight and discovers they are in love. He releases Maia from the engagement and then tries to persuade Kirby not to go on with the duel but to the more skillful fence. He injured Colton, though not seriously.

Mr. Penfold is still puzzled about the theft of his diamonds, when Maia confides it was she who took them, when she found him lying on the beach unconscious. She did it, hoping to use a charge of theft to dispose of Seagrave. But she declares she did not take the money. Kirby admits to Uncle Pom that he loves Maia but fears he has no chance with her. The older man encourages him. He has grown fond of Kirby these recent days and would like to see the young pair happy. So he goes to Seagrave, meaning to dispose of him once and for all. He charges him with attack and robbery and declares he does not believe the figure in a yacht costume, referred to in Colton's alibi, was Seagrave at all. He lays down these terms: He will make no charges against Seagrave if the latter will promise never again to trouble Maia. Seagrave gives his word and they part friends, Seagrave admitting that he did make the attack.

On his return to the chateau Uncle Pom sees Maia in the wounded hero's arms.

Unnecessary Pain!

Nowadays, people take Bayer Aspirin for many little aches and pains, and as often as they encounter any pain.

Why not? It is a proven antidote for pain. It works! And Bayer Aspirin tablets are utterly harmless. You have the medical profession's word for that; they do not depress the heart.

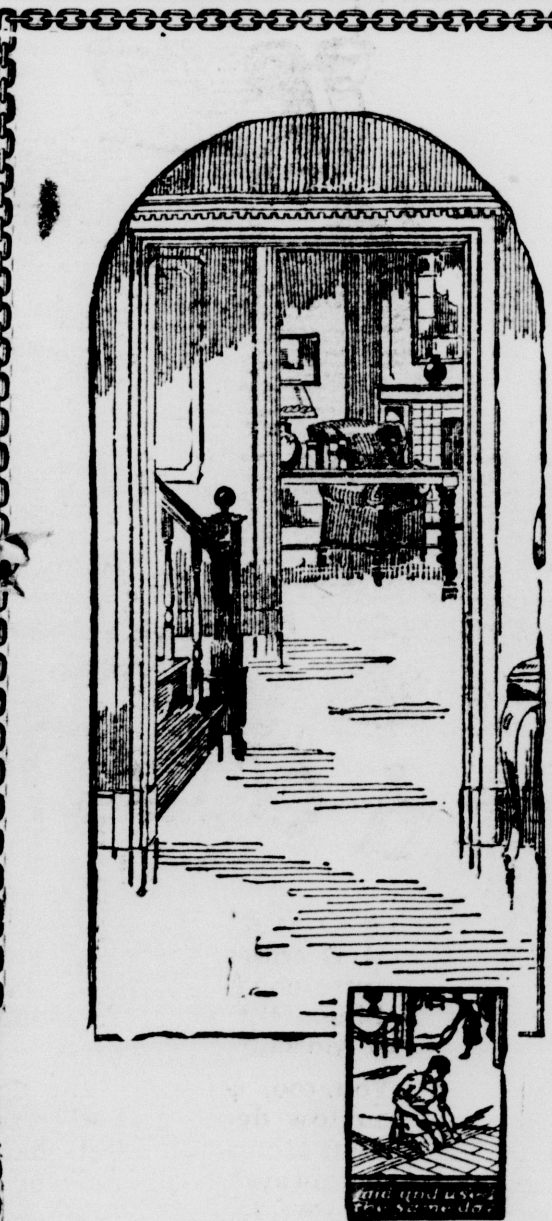

So, don't let a cold "run its course." Don't wait for a headache to "wear off." Or regard neuralgia, neuritis, or even rheumatism as something you must endure. Only a physician can cope with the cause of such pain, but you can always turn to Bayer Aspirin for relief.

Sewer Job Handled By Bonding Firm

Workers on Seventeenth Street System Will Get Pay Tomorrow; Project Nearing Completion.

WELLSVILLE, O., Oct. 14.—The Fidelity Casualty company of New York City, holding the bond of C. Ray Sykes, Bellaire contractor in charge of the construction of the Seventeenth street sewer, today took charge of the completion of the work, Mayor Wallace L. Fogo said.

A force of 20 men who have been working on the sewer, and who failed to receive their wages Saturday, will be paid in full tomorrow, according to city officials, upon the arrival of a representative of the bonding company from Cleveland.

Sykes has been making admirable progress on the actual work but has been handicapped financially by the fact that money due him on several other jobs through the state has been delayed in payment, officials said.

The work will continue on schedule.

It was announced, and, unless weather interferes, will be completed within two or three weeks. The sewer has been projected through from the Ohio river side to a point beneath Seventeenth and Main streets. The crew will trench from Commerce street a short distance toward Main and will tunnel the remainder of the way.

Concrete sewer is being used on the system with the exception of that portion with the exception of vana railroad tracks.

"OLD HEADS" PLAN DINNER

Program to be Given in Riverview Hotel.

Preparations are being made for the dinner and program which will mark the observance of the 30th anniversary of the Ancient and Honorable Order of Old Heads, of Wellsville, to be held Thursday night in the dining room of the Riverview hotel, Third and Main streets.

For 30 years, the "Old Heads," originally consisting of John Diemer and Guy Morrow, have met annually, sometime during the fall, for reminiscences and the renewing of friendships. The order has grown until 17 are now members and when John Haugh is initiated at Thursday's session, the 18 mark will be reached.

Guests from throughout the county as well as from farther points will be present. These include Common Pleas Judge W. F. Jones, Probate Judge Lodge Riddle, Dr. T. M. McClure, Cleveland, Harvey Boyle, columnist for a Pittsburgh newspaper, and many others.

Charles Lodge's orchestra will provide music. Attorney Blaine H. Cochran, East Liverpool, and George B. Imbrie, Wellsville's service-safety director, are on the program for songs.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes J. F. Calhoun, M. R. Shingler, E. G. Morrow and John Diemer. The latter will also act as master of ceremonies. A varied and novel program has been planned, beginning promptly at 6 o'clock with general assembly and followed at 6:30 by dinner; then the exemplification of the order's ritual and the initiation of a candidate. The "Four Horsemen" are scheduled to appear next and a series of short addresses of no more than three minutes each, will close the program.

Was Sickly and Discouraged Till 'Orange Root' Came Says

Mr. F. E. Workman Suffered Dreadfully With Neuritis in Shoulders and Everything He Ate Brought On An Attack of Indigestion.

Says "ORANGE ROOT" Gave Him Instant Relief, Corrected Digestive Ills and Stimulated and Strengthened His Whole System.

Mr. F. E. Workman, of Steubenville, O., Route No. 2, employed at the Academy Riding School, was so disgusted with all medicine that he was loath to try anything new, as he had taken most everything he had ever heard of, with no good results whatever. Reading about ORANGE ROOT and the great good it was doing local folks, he decided to give it a trial, and here is what he says: "Neuritis in my shoulder almost set me crazy. Nothing it seemed would relieve it for a very long time. Everything I ate caused me to have an attack of indigestion, which always brought on nervousness and inability to sleep. Constipation had been the bane of my life. I lost weight and strength till friends began to think I would become an invalid for life. I became disgusted with medicine of every description, and when just about to resign myself to a life of constant misery, I heard about this ORANGE ROOT and bought three bottles of it and a box of the golden Nuggets, and started the treatment. Would you believe it, from the very FIRST dose, I began to improve, and now after taking all 3 bottles, I am in PERFECT HEALTH. All neuritis pains have left me, indigestion is a thing of the past, and I can eat most anything I choose, and NOTHING hurts me. My nerves have become steady and calm, and I sleep like a child at night. My strength has returned two-fold and I never felt so invigorated and strengthened in all my life. I am not bothered any more with constipation, as the little nuggets have regulated my system in wonderful shape. I think these Orange Root remedies are the very best on earth and am not surprised to hear that they are selling great quantities of it, for it surely does what it is advertised to do." If you suffer as Mr. Workman did, or have had blood, rheumatism, are weak, nervous, underweight and all rundown, for goodness sake, go at once to Mathew's Medicine Store, get treatment of these nationally famous remedies, take them faithfully for a few days, and you will be surprised at the rapid and lasting improvement in your condition. Prices: TONIC $1.25, NUGGETS 50c. The wonderful cough remedy, H. & J. CRESSOTE EMULSION Compound instantly relieves tight, hard cough, stops night cough, and prevents croupy condition. Price 65c at Mathew's. All good drug stores here and in nearby towns are selling these great remedies hand over fist. Take them TODAY as thousands of others are doing all over the nation.—Adv.

PROBLEM OF COLD WEATHER BREAKFAST SOLVED HERE

Breakfasts vary in different families, hearty, light or of the Oriental type. This does not cover the many different diet fads. The Oriental breakfast is coffee or cocoa, rolls, sometimes a bit of fruit or flower-scented honey. First we will give three hearty breakfasts, then three light breakfasts, then tourists' breakfasts where time is limited.

Hearty Menus.

Sliced Oranges
Cream of wheat, cream
Creamed oysters on toast
Waffles and honey. Coffee.

Grapefruit

Buttered rice with honey
Chicken and pepper hash. Rolls
Toasted English muffins with orange marmalade. Coffee.

Prunes stuffed with marmalade, cream

Country sausage, creamed potatoes, fried apples
Wheat cakes, honey. Coffee.

These are hearty meals, the sort served in many families for Sunday morning breakfasts, in other homes regularly. In No. 1, make the cream for the oysters rich and not too thick and serve the last minute so it does not get cold and pasty. In the second have the rice freshly boiled and add a little salt butter, and heat the honey and mix it with heavy cream, say a tablespoonful of the honey to two tablespoonfuls of cream for each serving. See that the chicken hash is moist and well seasoned, skin the peppers before chopping them. In the third menu the gluten porridge is made of the gluten flour and it must be beaten so that there are no lumps in it. Potato chips may be used if there is not time, or no cream at hand, to make the creamed dish.

Light Breakfasts.

Baked apple, cream
Chicken livers on toast, brown sauce
Coffee

Stewed figs, cream
Toasted English muffins
Scrambled eggs. Coffee.

Prune whip
Poached eggs, buttered toast.
Coffee

In the first breakfast make sure the apple cores are thoroughly removed before the apples are baked. Sauté the chicken livers in butter, season well, then lift the livers to the toast and make the brown sauce by adding a small cupful of rich heavy stock to the butter and thicken it when hot with roux made of browned flour. Remove crusts from the bread before toasting it, and serve on a hot dish with the sauce turned over the livers. Add cream to the scrambled eggs in the second menu—it makes them richer and softer. Tear the muffins open for toasting—do not cut them. For the third menu, stew the prunes as usual after several hours' soaking. Then when cool, remove the stones, chop the prunes fine, add enough of the juice to moisten, beat light, and serve cold with heavy cream.

Tourists' Menus.

Banana or orange
Minute steak sandwich. Coffee

Figs or dates
Hot roast beef sandwich
Coffee

Apple
Soft boiled eggs, toast
Doughnuts and coffee

The foods in these menus may be quickly gotten in any railroad station or restaurant. They are wholesome, easily and quickly prepared, and apt to be fresher and better than most of the foods usually served. For short trips the box of home sandwiches and thermos of coffee are usually better than anything that can be purchased by the wayside.

THE COOKIE JAR

Keeping the cookie jar filled is quite a task when there are lots of children and neighbors. Careful baking means much in the success of cookie making—a steady even oven not too hot, an eye on the clock, and in most cases thoroughly buttered pans.

Lemon Cookies.

Beat the yolks of six eggs and a small cupful of butter to a cream. Add slowly three cupfuls of sugar and a teaspoonful of lemon flavoring. Beat well. Then fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs and just enough sifted flour to make a soft dough. Roll out thin on a flour board and cut in desired shapes; then bake in a buttered pan in a quick oven. As soon as the cookies are taken from the oven, dust them with a little granulated sugar.

PEPPER RELISH

Run thru the food chopper, grating coarsely, two dozen sweet green peppers, two dozen medium sized onions, two medium sized heads of cabbage and add one-half to one cup of salt. Put into a muslin bag and drain over night. In the morning add six small red peppers and one tablespoon of turmeric. Then beat two quarts cider vinegar, five and one-half cups brown sugar, one and one-half dozen whole cloves, one and one-half dozen whole allspice, one-third cup celery seed and one-half cup mustard seed and cook until the sugar is dissolved. Add this vinegar mixture to the pepper mixture, reheat and cook for nearly twenty minutes after it begins to boil. Can in sterilized jars and seal. This recipe makes twelve pints.

Chinese Almond Cookies.

Blanch a half cupful of almonds; then with a sharp knife cut in strips and dry them off. Cream together a quarter cupful each of butter and sugar. When blended add one beaten egg, a half teaspoonful of almond flavoring and sift in gradually one cupful of rice flour. Roll out thin on a board sprinkled well with rice flour. Cut in small rounds and lift to a buttered pan with a spatula. Press into each some of the almond strips, then bake a very delicious brown in a hot oven. These are dainty for tea parties.

Dainty Molasses Wafers.

Put into a sauce pan a cupful of molasses and a cupful each of butter and sugar. Bring to boiling point and boil one minute. Remove from the fire and cool slightly; then add a cupful of sifted flour and a heaping teaspoonful of baking powder. Drop by the spoonful onto a buttered baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven ten minutes, cool slightly in a pan and lift with a spatula to a dish. They break easily when hot.

Company Jumbles.

These are rather too rich for everyday use but nice for company. Beat to a cream a pound of butter and a half pound of sugar. When creamed, add four beaten fresh eggs and a tablespoonful of rose flavoring. Add a grating of nutmeg and gradually sift in three-quarters of a pound of flour, beating well. Lay a paper on the baking sheet and dust it with sugar. Roll the dough thin and cut the jumbles with a round cutter, having a small circular center, which will cut like doughnuts. Lay on the

NEW RECIPES WITH ORANGES

Orange Cream Jelly.
Make 1 pint of orange or lemon jelly by the recipe on your favorite brand of gelatin. When it is cold and just beginning to set whip it with the egg beater until it is of the consistency of whipped cream. Pour into sherbet glasses and put a green mint cherry on top of each. Serve very cold.

Orange Frosting.

2 egg yolks
5 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 cups powdered sugar
1 tablespoon grated orange rind.
Mix orange juice, lemon juice and rind and let stand 15 minutes. Strain. Add egg yolks and powdered sugar. Beat until of a consistency to spread.

Orange Sauce for Cold Cuts.

Beat smooth six tablespoonfuls of quince jelly with two tablespoonfuls of sugar and the grated rind of an orange and a lemon, beating with a silver fork for five minutes. Then add two tablespoonfuls each of lemon, orange and onion juice. Blend well, adding a little pepper and salt and a teaspoonful of powdered dried mint leaves.

sugared paper and bake in a moderate oven a delicate brown. When done dust with powdered sugar.

Brownies.

2 square of bitter chocolate
1 cup butter
1 cup granulated sugar
2 eggs
1/2 cup flour
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Melt chocolate and cool. Add butter and sugar slowly, then eggs beaten. Add flour nuts and vanilla. Bake in shallow pan (about 10 inches square) which has been buttered and floured. Bake in moderate oven about 3/4 hour. Cut in squares while warm and remove from pan.

To Avoid Pulling Wrong Thread.

When basting I use a different color thread than that which I use for gathering so that I make no mistake when I rip out one or the other.

To Keep Pecan Meats Whole.

Before cracking pecans, pour boiling water over them and let them stand a few moments. Most of the kernels will then come out whole. This will also take the strong taste out of the old pecans.

Golden Star Pasteurized Milk and Cream is again selected by this recognized authority on account of its purity. Frances Troy Northcross, who is to conduct a Cooking School in the Eagles' Auditorium on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons, and who is a nationally-known food expert, has selected Golden Star Pasteurized Milk and Cream to use exclusively throughout her demonstrations. What better tribute could be paid to any food product?

Mrs. Northcross put Golden Star Milk to every test, and finds that it is of the highest standard of purity; that it is delicious to the taste; and of high nutritive value.

She marvelled at orderliness of the Golden Star Dairy and at the modern machinery, and at the trained workmen. She earnestly recommends the use of Golden Star Pure Pasteurized Milk and Cream.

Golden Star Pasteurized Milk and Cream must set the standard of Purity. For this reason, raw milk is purchased from only the most reliable Milk producers. It is hurried to the dairy in fast trucks where it is tested, weighed and pasteurized. Golden Star pasteurizing equipment is the most modern that scientific dairy research has produced. Then the milk is rapidly cooled, bottled and capped by machinery—no hands touch the Milk.

The Milk is then placed in a cold storage room, from which it is loaded onto the wagons and delivered to you.

Every sanitary safeguard has been employed to serve you with pure, safe, pasteurized Milk and Cream at all times.

NEW WAYS TO SERVE MACARONI

Here are some tempting new ways to serve macaroni with left-over bits of meats, vegetables, fish and cheese. Ways that are not only tempting, but remarkably economical, quick and easy.

They are tempting because they are just a little different from the ways in which most women are accustomed to preparing macaroni. They are economical because macaroni itself is an inexpensive food which, when combined with left-over bits in the proper manner, forms many delightful dishes that cost only a few cents.

But the quickness and easiness of these recipes is what will attract the busy housewife, too. For all of them can be made with a quick cooking macaroni now on the market that cooks completely in from 5 to 8 minutes. Thus the long cooking of macaroni recipes with the attendant "pot watching" is avoided.

Many of the dishes given here form meals in themselves—delightful and sufficiently satisfying to the average person when served with a beverage and dessert. For macaroni is one of the world's greatest strength-giving foods, a complete food in itself and easy to digest. Housewives, who find a variety of ways in which to serve it can cut down their household budgets without in any way sacrificing the nutritive value of their menus.

The opportunities for using left-overs of meat, cheese, vegetables and fish with macaroni are shown in the recipes below. The time required for the actual cooking of each recipe is given so that it is possible to see how quick and easy each is.

Escalloped Macaroni with Vegetables.

1 package quick cooking macaroni.
1 cup cooked, diced turnips or cauliflower.
1 cup cooked, diced carrots.
1 cup cooked peas or string beans.

12 cups quick cooking macaroni.
1 1/2 cups sliced cold meat any kind.
2 tbsps. meat drippings, butter or oil.
2 tbsps. flour.
1 to 2 tbsps. curry powder.
1 tsp. minced onion.
1 1/2 cups meat gravy or stock.
1 tsp. vinegar.
1 apple, cut or chopped very fine.

Break the macaroni in pieces and cook 5 to 8 minutes in boiling salted water. In the meantime melt the fat and add the onion and apple. Cook slowly until the onion begins to brown. Add the flour and the curry powder and stir over a slow fire for 2 or 3 minutes. The amount of curry powder used depends on the taste. Stir in the stock or gravy, vinegar and enough salt and pepper to season. Put in the meat, cover closely and simmer for 15 minutes. Drain the macaroni and pile in a hot dish. Pour the curry over and around it and serve very hot.

Add the flour and the curry powder and stir over a slow fire for 2 or 3 minutes. The amount of curry powder used depends on the taste. Stir in the stock or gravy, vinegar and enough salt and pepper to season. Put in the meat, cover closely and simmer for 15 minutes. Drain the macaroni and pile in a hot dish. ## A GOOD ONE FOR THE COOK BOOK

Layer Fruit Cake.

2 cups sugar.
1 cup butter.
3 eggs beaten.
1 cup buttermilk.
1 teaspoon soda.
1 cup blackberry jam.
1 cup nuts.
1 cup raisins.
1 1/2 cup coconut.
3 cups flour.
1 tablespoon allspice.

Run nuts, raisins and coconut through food chopper. Cream sugar and butter together. Add eggs, milk, soda, jam and flour. Mix well, cook in layers and put together with the following filling:

2 cups sugar.
1 cup butter.
1 1/2 cups milk.
Boil until thick. This cake should be cooked 30 days before eating.

NUT COOKERY

Nut Loaf

Chop very fine a cupful and a half of English walnut meats. Add to the nuts two cupfuls of crumbs, two beaten eggs, a quarter cupful of cream, tablespoonful of butter and a quarter cupful of hot water, pepper, salt, a teaspoonful of sugar, the juice of an onion, a tablespoonful of finely minced celery leaves, and a few drops of kitchen bouquet. Mix, then turn into buttered rectangular small sized bread pan and bake a half hour, basting occasionally with a very little hot water. This should be turned out onto a plate without breaking. Turn into a saucepan, having been rubbed with butter, a small can of drained grated pineapple, stir and cook a few minutes to brown a little, then turn it around the roast.

Nut Cutlets.

Shell and put through the chop per enough nuts to make two cupfuls when chopped. If almonds are used they should be blanched. Add to the nuts two cupfuls of fresh bread crumbs, two beaten eggs, one cupful of light cream, pepper, salt, a half a teaspoonful of curry powder. Shape into cutlets with the hands, dip in flour and fry a golden brown in hot fat.

A Tea Kettle Knob.

When the original knob on the tea kettle lid has come off, an empty spoon, cut in two and fastened on with a bolt and nut is a very practical substitute.

New Pie Recipes

Charing Cross Pie.

1 cup warm apple sauce, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup raisins, grated rind, and juice of half lemon, 4 table-spoons sugar, 1 tablespoon batter, 1/4 cup chopped nuts, 2 table-spoons cream, 4 eggs. Add butter to warm apple sauce, beat in the sugar and cream, then add the well-beaten egg yolks and the lemon juice. Use a pastry shell already baked, and spread the nuts and raisins, mixed together, on the bottom of the shell. Above that put the apple mixture and over this a meringue made of the egg whites and 4 table-spoons of sugar. Brown lightly in a moderate oven.

Grape Meringue Pie.

1 quart of blue grapes, 2 table-spoonsful of flour, pinch of ground cloves, 1 cupful of sugar, 2 eggs yolks. Separate the skins from the pulp of the grapes. Place the pulp in the top part of the double boiler and steam twenty minutes, then press through a coarse sieve. Add pulp to skins with sugar and flour mixed, slightly beaten egg yolks and cloves. Mix well and pour into pastry lined plate. Bake 45 minutes in oven 450 degrees Fahrenheit (hot) for ten minutes, then 420 degrees Fahrenheit (moderate) for the remaining 35 minutes. Cool a little. Cover with a meringue made from 2 egg whites, a drop of flavoring, 3 table-spoonsful of sugar. Beat the egg whites to a stiff froth and fold in the sugar, add flavoring. Bake in oven 325 degrees Fahrenheit (slow) for 10 minutes.

Cream Pie.

1 pint of Cream, 1 cup sugar, whites of 3 eggs, 1 table-spoon flour. Pour the cream over sugar and let stand while the eggs are being beaten to a stiff froth. Add flour to the cream and beat thoroughly. Add whites of eggs, grate a little nutmeg over the top and bake with one crust.

Rhubarb and Pineapple Pie.

2 cups diced rhubarb, 2 cups crushed pineapple, 2 table-spoons lemon juice, 1 cup sugar, grated rind 1/2 lemon, 2 table-spoons quick cooking tapioca, pastry. Wipe the rhubarb and cut it into dice. Blend with pineapple, sugar, lemon rind and tapioca and use a filling for a pastry-lined pie plate. Sprinkle the lemon juice over the filling and cover with a top crust. Bake half to three-quarters of an hour, having the oven hot—400 degrees F.—for the first ten minutes, afterward reducing the heat to finish the baking.

Peach Pie a la Creme.

Previously baked pastry shell, 1 can sliced peaches, 1/2 teaspoon almond extract, optional; chopped toasted almonds, 1 cup whipped sweetened cream. Bake a pastry crust over an inverted pie plate; when cold, put it in its proper position and fill with the peaches, to which the almond extract has been added (if this is used). Arrange the cream by means of a forcing bag over the fruit and sprinkle with the chopped toasted almonds. Serves six.

Pumpkin Pie.

2 eggs, well beaten, 1 cup sugar, 1 1/4 cups pumpkin, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ginger, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1 cup cream. Mix thoroughly in the order given and pour into a pastry-shell with a built-up rim. Set into hot oven (450 degrees Fahrenheit) for 10 minutes to set crust, reduce heat to 350 degrees Fahrenheit, and bake until set (about half an hour more).

Southern Sugar Pie.

3 cups light-brown sugar, 3 eggs, unbeaten, 1/3 cup milk, 1/2 cup melted butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Place all the ingredients in a bowl and beat hard until the mixture is thoroughly blended and very foamy. Pour into a pie-pan lined with pastry. Set into a hot oven, 450 degrees Fahrenheit for 10 minutes, reduce heat to slow, 350 degrees Fahrenheit, and bake until the mixture is set—about 25 minutes more. There should be a sugary crust on top. This is sweet but delicious, and should be served in small portions.

Lemon Sponge Pie.

Use the same ingredients as for ordinary lemon pie but instead of using the egg whites for a meringue, beat them stiff and fold them into the cooked lemon filling just before it is poured into the pie shell.

Lemon Pineapple Pie.

Use the ingredients for regulation lemon pie with the addition of 2/3 cup of cooked and sweetened shredded pineapple and the substitution of pineapple juice for 1/2 the cup of water called for.

Proceed as for other lemon pie, using half pineapple juice and half water to cook with the sugar and cornstarch and adding the pineapple with the lemon juice, rind, egg yolk and butter.

Fruit Sponge Pie.

1 cup sugar, 4 table-spoons flour, 1 pint fruit well drained, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk. Mix sugar and flour together; add yolks of eggs, beat well together. Put in unbaked pie crust and bake slowly 30 minutes. Pie will have a top like sponge cake and a fruit filling. Beat the egg whites, add a little sugar and spread on pie after it is baked for meringue. Whipped cream may be used instead of meringue.

Puffed-Raisin Pie.

2 cupfuls water, 1/2 cupful molasses, 1/2 pound puffed raisins, 1 1/2 table-spoonsful flour, 1 1/2 ta-

Water Lily Salad

What's that? Company for dinner and nothing in the house? Well, we can help you out with an idea for a simple salad if there are some tomatoes and crushed pineapple in your larder. And a mighty good salad it is too—nothing that looks like a last minute life-saver. Peel a small tomato for each salad without removing stem end. Cut in sixths to the stem end, press gently apart until like a water lily two-thirds open. Put tomatoes on lettuce leaves and fill centers with drained crushed pineapple mixed with a standard mayonnaise dressing.

1 spoonful butter, 1 table-spoon mixed ground spice, 1 egg, baked pastry. Mix the water and molasses, and boil the puffed raisins in the mixture for about an hour (in covered saucepan), stirring occasionally. Remove from the fire, add the flour, butter and spice. Cook again, stirring until boiling starts. Quickly add the beaten yolk of egg, and pour at once into a pie plate lined with baked pastry. Cover with meringue into which chopped dates have been mixed.

For Rugs That Slip.

A strip of rubber glued to the under side of your mats and small rugs will keep them from slipping on waxed or polished floors.

of the owners of this refrigerator

NO wonder the owner of a General Electric feels a glow of pride when he says, quietly, "Yes, we have a General Electric." For, which electric refrigerator can match his in efficiency, in quietness, in stamina, in trouble-free service?

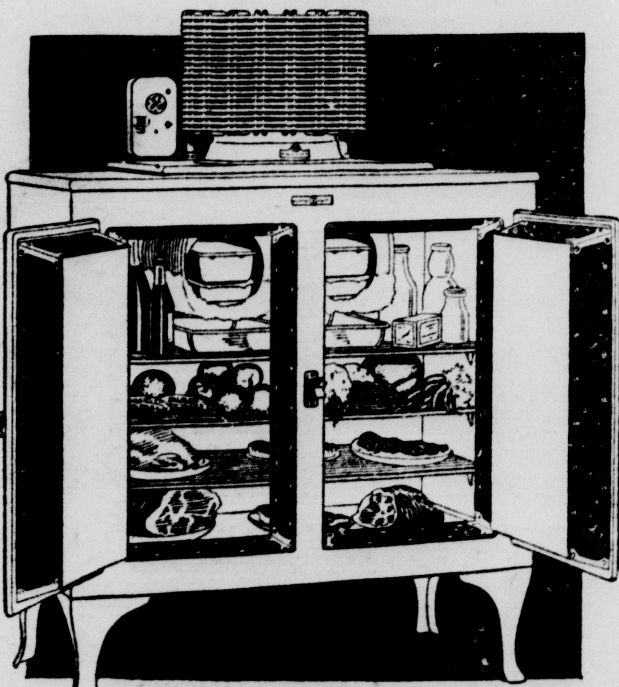

The record of more than 350,000 in use with no owner having spent a dollar for repairs or service is one which truly challenges comparison.

The mechanism of the General Electric is so simple . . . it never needs oiling . . . it is hermetically sealed in a steel casing which keeps it forever dust-proof. It creates no radio interference. It has an accessible freezing regulator. It makes plenty of ice.

The cabinets are all-steel. They cannot warp. They are particularly easy to clean. Sturdiest hardware is bolted right into the steel frame. Self-closing door latch, gliders to protect your linoleums. . . And, of course, it automatically maintains a temperature several degrees below 50—the figure which medical authorities agree is the danger point in food preservation. Come in today and ask about our conveniently spaced payment plan.

SAVORY MEAT RECIPES

French Chickens.

Split three broilers down the back. Oil six large circles of thick white paper, lay a piece of chicken on each on a thin slice of ham. Cover with a little cream sauce, a few sliced mushrooms, truffles, and a teaspoonful of green peas. Fold the paper over and fasten tightly. Lay on a rack in the roasting pan and cook in a moderate oven for a half hour. Serve on a hot dish in the papers, garnishing with parsley.

Creole Pigeons.

Clean, wipe dry and cut into quarters three plump pigeons. Let them stand in a cupful of olive oil for 15 minutes, turning often. Pour the oil into a frying pan and add to it a chopped onion, a pepper minced fine, and a tablespoonful of chopped parsley. Fry until the onion is transparent, then lay in the pigeons and brown them lightly. Then put all into a casserole dish, adding seasoning, a can of tomatoes and roux for thickening. Cook an hour, sprinkle with grated cheese and serve.

Lamb's Tongue.

Take four lamb's tongues and boil them until tender, drain, skin and cut them in halves lengthwise. Have ready a smooth, well-seasoned tomato sauce, not made too thick, and put the tongues into it. Arrange a ring of freshly boiled rice on a hot dish and pour the lamb into the center. Garnish with stuffed baked potatoes and fried apple. This makes an inexpensive and delightful dish.

Lamb Turkish Style.

Pare, core and slice a pound of pears and cook until tender. Cut a pound of lamb in inch cubes and fry a delicate brown in butter, or light fat. Then cover with water and simmer gently. When tender, add the pears and seasoning and cook ten minutes more; then serve.

Armenian Lamb Stew.

Cut two pounds of lamb in stew-sized pieces. Place in a stew pan with a sliced onion, a cupful of tomatoes, pepper, salt and a little

OLD VIRGINIA NIGHTCAP

Nobody knows how old this recipe is. Put a quart of cider and a teaspoon of whole allspice to boil. Beat 3 eggs very light. Pour the boiling cider over the beaten eggs, strain into china cups and drink hot. You will find it a cup which like tea "cheers but does not inebriate."

sugar. Stew very gently, tightly covered. Cut the stems and tips from a pound of fresh and tender okra and boil it in salted water until tender; then drain and add it to the stew. If the stew is too dry, add a little of the okra water. When done thicken slightly with brown roux. Serve turned over a mound of rice.

Spanish Steak.

Take two pounds of top round, free from bone, and have the butcher cut criss-cross gashes on either side. Rub the steak with a mixture of a half teaspoonful of salt and a quarter teaspoonful of pepper. Rub well on both sides. Have an iron skillet with hot melted suet and butter fat mixed, lay in the steak and cook, turning frequently, to a light brown but do not burn it. Then pour in a can of solidly packed tomatoes, two large sliced onions, a large bell pepper shredded, garlic finely sliced, a cupful of hot water and two tablespoonfuls of vinegar. Cover and cook gently for two hours. The steak should be two inches thick when purchased. Serve with rice and large baked potatoes.

Polish Beef Rolls.

Take two pounds of fillet of beef and cut in long strips. Make a stuffing of grated onion, bread crumbs, about two heaping tablespoonfuls and a tablespoonful of butter. Dust with pepper and salt. Spread the strips of meat with the filling and roll them. Pack the rolls closely in a frying pan that has been rubbed with a cut bud of garlic and has in it two tablespoonfuls of melted butter and brown the rolls. Pour in a cupful of stock, dust with flour, cover and cook gently for an hour and a half. Serve with wheat porridge.

Stuffed Mutton, New Zealand.

Bone a shoulder of mutton and trim off extra fat. Make a stuffing of half a pound of minced bacon, minced onion, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, chives, and celery leaves, four sheep's kidney's and skinned and parboiled then sliced small, a cupful of dry crumbs, pepper and salt, and a beaten egg to bind the mixture. Stuff, truss, place in a pan with a cupful of stock and cook, basting often. Allow twelve minutes a pound for cooking.

German Veal Roast.

Put a small veal roast into a bowl and just cover it with milk. Let stand for two days in a cool place. Lift the veal carefully to the roasting pan and season with pepper and salt, then baste frequently with the sour milk, which mixes with the drippings and forms the gravy.

CHEESE SANDWICHES ALWAYS FAVORITES AT PARTIES

The cheese sandwich is a general favorite and can be made in an almost endless variety of ways. Hot, cold, on rye or white bread, many different cheeses are sandwiched to suit the various tastes of consumers. The sauces, flavorful combinations and additions, are dictated by the trade in the sections served.

Breads should be at least a day old, butter should be softened by beating in a hot bowl, and the various dressings should be freshly mixed each day. Bread should be cut thin and crust removed. Lettuce should be washed, dried and chilled. After making, wrap the sandwiches in a damp linen cloth and put in a cool place until served.

Cream Cheese Fillings.
Take two parts of cream cheese to one part of Roquefort, add a tablespoonful of cream, pepper, salt, a few drops of onion juice, a saltspoonful of sugar and a saltspoonful of paprika. Work to a smooth paste, adding a few drops more cream if too stiff. Use on white bread.

To one small cream cheese add a half saltspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of cream, a heaping tablespoonful of quince jelly and a teaspoonful of minced olives and chopped nuts. Mix to a paste and spread on whole wheat bread.

To one cream cheese add a heaping tablespoonful of finely minced boiled chicken or calf's liver, a teaspoonful of minced sweet pickle, pepper, salt, a saltspoonful of sugar, enough heavy sweet cream to soften. Mix to a paste, butter the bread slices with a little white mayonnaise then add the paste.

Hot Cheese Filling.
Take freshly grated American rich and sharp cheese and sprinkle thickly on lightly buttered slices of white bread, dust with pepper and salt, set in oven on a baking sheet and when they begin to melt put on the top slices and leave in the oven long enough to toast them delicately, remove from the oven and butter tops lightly. Serve hot. The bread may be brushed over with mustard before the cheese is added if liked.

Tomato and Cheese.
Slice firm tomatoes in medium slices, dip the slices in heavy mayonnaise then in grated fresh Parmesan cheese, dust with paprika. Lay up on rounds of white bread lightly buttered. A small crisp lettuce leaf may be added but is not a necessity.

Grated Swiss Cheese.
Grate a cupful of imported Swiss cheese. Add to the cheese enough well-made mustard, or mustard sauce, to make the mass a little paste like. If too hot add a very little heavy or whipped cream. Spread on white or rye bread over a very thin slice of cold boiled tongue or ham.

Ham and Cheese Sandwich.
Butter slices of toasted bread. Cover with a thin slice of boiled ham, spread with mustard and cover with a layer of grated cheese. Place the slices in the oven until Cover bottom of greased baking dish with 1/3 of bread crumbs, then add in layers—eggs, ham, cream sauce and crumbs. Save enough crumbs to cover top. Add milk and bake in moderate oven about 20 minutes.

Goulash.
1 pound hamburger, 1 package spaghetti, 1 can tomatoes. Put hamburger in frying pan and cook thoroughly. Cook spaghetti in boiling salted water until tender. Add spaghetti and tomatoes to meat and season to taste. Cook slowly for about 1 hour.

Meat Balls With Sauerkraut.
1 1/2 pounds fresh ground pork, 1 cup uncooked rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon black pepper, 1 quart sauerkraut. Cook sauerkraut in boiling water for at least 1 hour. Soak rice in water for 1 hour. Drain and mix with fresh meat, salt and pepper. Make into small balls. Drop into the kettle with kraut and cover tightly. Boil slowly for 2 hours.

HOW TO COOK VEGETABLES

All green vegetables are put on to cook in boiling water. Add salt to the water in which green or top-ground vegetables are to be cooked. White or underground vegetables are better when salt is added after the cooking.

Cabbage, cauliflower, onions and turnips must be boiled rapidly in an uncovered vessel, or they will emit unpleasant odors.

Medium sized onions should be boiled in salted water one hour.

Green corn in salted water five minutes.

Peas in salted water twenty minutes.

Asparagus in salted water thirty minutes.

Cabbage (whole head) in salted water one hour and a half.

Cauliflower in salted water thirty minutes.

Carrots, turnips and the roots of plants in unsalted water one hour; if cut in dice, twenty minutes.

Young lima beans in salted water forty minutes.

Young beets in unsalted water thirty minutes.

Old beets in unsalted water two or three hours.

Potatoes in unsalted water until you can pierce them with a fork.

Spinach and greens in unsalted water fifteen to twenty minutes.

English Steamed Potatoes.

Pare as many white potatoes as are to be needed and let stand 1-2 hour in cold water to draw out the starch. Drain and lay the potatoes in a steamer and steam for 30 minutes, or until tender.

Place the potatoes in a hot dish and pour over them a little melted butter, with a little chopped parsley, pepper and salt. The potatoes will be found delicate and meaty in texture and very delicious in flavor.

Stuffed Green Peppers.

Remove the stems from six peppers. Take out the inside of peppers. Put the shells into boiling water and let them cook 5 minutes, then put them in cold water. Make a stuffing as follows:

1 cup bread crumbs.

1 cup finely chopped ham.

1 tablespoon grated onion.

1-2 teaspoon salt.

1-4 teaspoon paprika.

1-4 teaspoon thyme.

Drain the pepper shells and fill with the stuffing. Sprinkle the top with buttered bread crumbs. Place the peppers in a casserole, pour 1-2 cup water or stock around them and bake 30 minutes.

Caramel Sweet Potatoes.

Boil and mash enough sweet potatoes to make one quart. Mix three tablespoonfuls of sugar, three tablespoonfuls of hot milk and a heaping teaspoonful of cinnamon. When mixed beat into the potato, whipping it light, then mound it on a buttered baking dish and with a teaspoon make little cavities an inch and a half deep all around the mound and fill with spoonful of corn syrup, using a cupful in all. Put into a medium oven to brown.

Spinach With Egg.

1-2 peck spinach.

3 tablespoons butter.

1-2 teaspoon pepper.

2 eggs.

3 teaspoons salt.

1-2 teaspoon pepper.

Wash and blanch the spinach, using 2 teaspoonfuls of the salt in the water in which the vegetables is boiled. Drain the blanched spinach and chop rather fine, return it to the saucepan, and add the salt, pepper and butter. Place on the fire and cook 10 minutes. Heap in a mound on a hot dish and garnish with the hard-boiled eggs, cut in slices.

When Cutting Marshmallows.

You will find that they will not stick to your knife, or scissors, if it is dipped in hot water occasionally.

To Ventilate a Closet.

To air a musty closet quickly, open a window in the room at top and bottom and place an electric fan in the closet doorway. This forces the air to circulate.

A Mending Hint.

When mending kid gloves, always use either mercerized or cotton thread. Silk tears the kid.

For Left Over Pineapple Juice.

When opening a can of sliced pineapple oftentimes there is a good bit of juice left. Try making a bowl of apple sauce, quartering the apples and adding pineapple juice to them after they have been cooked and sweetened. The results will be the most delightful apple sauce you ever tasted.

Icing.

2 small cups sugar.

1 cup water and boil till spins thread.

2 egg whites.

Beat icing in eggs until creamy, then put one large tablespoonful crushed pineapple syrup that is drained off of pineapple.

Summer Mince Pie.

4 soda crackers, 1-2 cups sugar, 1 cup molasses, 2-3 cup vinegar, 1-2 cup water, 2 cups chopped raisins, 2-3 cup butter, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon allspice.

Roll the crackers to crumbs, mix all ingredients together, bake in unbaked crusts. This makes 4 pies.

MACDONALD "DOCTOR OF LAWS"

Premier MacDonald, in academic robes, on the left, has just received an honorary degree of doctor of laws from George Washington university. On right is Dr. Marvin, president of the college.

When Cutting Marshmallows.

You will find that they will not stick to your knife, or scissors, if it is dipped in hot water occasionally.

A Mending Hint.

When mending kid gloves, always use either mercerized or cotton thread. Silk tears the kid.

DOUGHNUTS

These are a very nice substitute for rolled doughnuts—much less work. To one pint of sour milk add a teaspoon of soda, beat until foamy, add a well beaten egg, salt, nutmeg, and a pinch of cinnamon, one cup or less of sugar, and enough flour to drop from the spoon. Fry dessertspoonfuls dropped in smoking hot fat, and dough will slip off more easily. They will be perfectly round, like balls, tender, and delicious. This makes enough for two mornings or deserts. Sweet milk may be used, substituting baking powder for the soda, and adding a teaspoon of shortening.

Crispy, Flaky Pie Crust.

Sometimes the most careful cook discovers when she rolls her pastry that it is not as "short" as she would like it. With a spatula spread shortening on half of the pie crust as though you were buttering a slice of bread, fold over, spread again and fold and repeat once more. Then roll the crust. It will not only be wonderfully flaky but will not soak up juice easily if made this way for a juicy pie.

After Removing Adhesive Tape.

A very simple method of removing the after effects of adhesive tape or sticky plaster of any kind, is to apply cold cream and then rubbing gently with a soft towel, the sticky marks disappear like magic, leaving the skin clean and not a bit irritated.

Radish Roses.

When radishes are available, they make a tasty accompaniment to soup. If possible use the round vegetable. Begin at the root end and make six incisions through the skin running three-fourths the length of radish. Pass knife under sections of skin, and cut down as far as the incisions extend. Place in very cold water. The sections of the skin will fold back, giving the radish a flower-like appearance.

McNUTT PRESS SYMBOLICAL OF QUALITY

Uniformity of Good Workmanship Marks Products.

If you have a message to be delivered to a few or to many—tell 'em through the powerful medium of good printing.

Good printing as exemplified in the work that comes from the McNutt presses—clear, clean and effective.

A good printer must do more than go through the operation of setting type, inking the rolls, and other routine work. He must know how to set up your message so that it will fairly leap out of the paper to capture the reader's eye. So that it will combine emphasis with refined appeal.

If you've sampled the work of the McNutt Printing Company, you have learned how easily this may be done. If you haven't, it's time you were.

For instance, people desirous of obtaining the finest in engraved wedding invitations invariably select the McNutt detail, they reflect a rare finesse in the printer's art.

That's one phase of their service and is mentioned to point out the height of quality to which the work of the printer can go.

It may be a small run or a half-million impressions...leaflets, folders, brochures, small catalogs or bulky bundles, blotters, letterheads, handbills or what have you. Whatever the job, McNutt's do it right!

Practical Methods Mark Bloor Service

Fleet of Four Trucks Helps to Keep Things Moving in East Liverpool District; No Job Too Small or Too Large.

"Eight tink reindeer," as they say in the story book, a fair sized pack about the size of a potato sack and an ordinary sleigh will suffice for Santa Claus as he essays to supply the universe on Christmas eve.

That's an accomplishment in transportation without parallel. However, old Santa Claus can try anything like that and get away with it. We mortals on this mundane sphere cannot.

Now Al Bloor, who rates a lot of recognition as one of the leading transportation men of the district, goes about it in a more practical manner.

He uses a fleet of motor trucks to do his hauling. He just recently bought a five-ton Grammm which is just about the last word in this particular type of automotive transportation. And he's got a Stewart two and one-half ton truck, a Day Elder of one and one-half ton capacity and a one-ton Ford.

Consequently, it appears that he is equipped in great style to do his share in putting up business for shippers of this particular district. And on top of all of this, Bloor knows the business. He's been in it long enough to know the ins and outs. Thus the shipper gets high class service with high class equipment by a transfer force which knows how.

With a complete range of equipment, Bloor is ready to tackle any job in the transportation line, large or small, guaranteeing the utmost care in every instance.

He handles general hauling jobs or will take care of your work on the contract basis.

In this respect he serves the Harker Pottery company, the American Paper Products company, the Macintosh-Hemphill company, the Cronin China company, the National Drawn Steel, the Porcelain Manufacturing company, the American Sheet & Tin Plate company here, as well as many others.

His telephone is 2348. Call him for your next job.

MacLean Funeral Home One Of Most Modern In District

New Piano-organ Installed in Wellsville Parlor; Equipment in Keeping With Needs of the Service.

Unceasing efforts over a wide range of years to provide the latest and most modern methods and equipment, compatible with dignity, beauty, comfort and convenience, including even the installation of a costly piano-organ, have kept the D. N. MacLean Funeral home, Wellsville, fully abreast of the demands it must meet and have established the home as one of the leading mortuary institutions in eastern Ohio.

In keeping with their policy that their service must be the best and nothing less than that, the owners announce the completion of installation work on an organ purchased from the J. P. Seeburg company of Chicago.

The organ which is so constructed that it operates either as a piano or an organ, or, if the need arises, as a combination of both, has been installed on the second floor but may be operated by any of three control switches.

It may be played by hand or by electricity and is the only organ in eastern Ohio, according to the proprietors, equipped with chimes. The funeral home is thoroughly equipped for every demand which may be placed upon it. There is a large parlor on the second floor as well as an operating room and a casket display room. On the street floor are the offices, garage, chapel and family reception room.

Eight large automobiles are included in the MacLean fleet. Two invalid cars are ready for instant service, one an especially built Henney and the other a Packard. The MacLean Funeral home has been established since 1881, and is now in its 48th year of service to people of Wellsville and surrounding communities.

D. N. MacLean, who founded the home, is still active in direction of its affairs, assisted by his son, D. N. MacLean, Jr., who has been identified with the home since 1916.

The latter holds embalmer's licenses both in Ohio and West Virginia. The personnel of the home, its officers, and its equipment and service form a combination of factors with service of the highest type always as the goal.

D. E. WOLFE, SON SELL QUALITY FOOD SUPPLIES

Give You the Best at Reasonable Prices.

If you "know your groceries" it won't take you long to discover that D. E. Wolfe & Son, St. Clair avenue, also possess considerable knowledge of things along the same line.

D. E. Wolfe & Son are grocers, operating an up-to-date shop at 647 St. Clair avenue and a real service for the folks in that community as well as others who are dropping into the Wolfe store often and oftener.

Once they go in they go back. Wolfe & Son are and have been specializing in high quality groceries and endeavor to retail them to the customer at the most reasonable price possible.

There are different qualities in groceries, you know, as well as anything else.

But it would seem to us, at the same time, that folks would pay more attention to the quality of the food they eat, the nourishment that goes into their bodies, than they would on other things. If they get a radio, an automobile, piano, they demand positively the best for their money. And some folks, not all, however, will buy a can of milk or corn because it costs a couple of cents less.

Why not buy known quality when you have to eat it? D. E. Wolfe & Sons are providing a quality service at reasonable prices and are deserving of patronage.
